

Proposal for CS546 Final Project

Group name: Stevens Syndicate

Jiazhen Liu

Tao Deng

Wentao Zhang

Mingxiang Zhao

Description

We will create a movie review website. This website will allow users to create their own account and comment the movies. Users can also add their favorite movie to a collection list.

Features

Core

An index page showing a list of movies, including their name and the poster. A search box that can find the movie.

Detail page for each movie showing a short description, release date, and all the user reviews of that movie.

A user login system that allows user to sign up a new account or sign in with existing account.

An account information page shows the user's favorite movies and user's reviews.

An about page to help the user know more about our team and the project.

A rank system to help users know the movie quickly.

Extra

We may improve the rank system to show the number of people for each rank.

We may add a function to help users to find movies they may like by sorting movies by the highest rank or the hottest movies.

We may implement auto movie list update.

We may add like and dislike function to user reviews, and show the most popular user reviews under movie details.